

TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS TAKE TOLL OF TEN LIVES

ARMED POSSES HUNT FOUR MEN IN JAIL BREAK

Tunnel Through Wall Of
Perry County Prison
Early Today

FIVE REFUSED TO FOLLOW LEADERS

Sheriff Thinks Prisoners
Had Outside Aid At
New Lexington

New Lexington, O., May 14—Armed posses were today scouring the hills in Perry county in search for four men who early this morning escaped from the Perry county jail after tunneling a hole two feet square through the four foot wall of the lock-up.

Those who escaped were: Rev. Harry Harbaugh, 50, charged with robbery; Rendville Frank, 35, robbery; George Ramsey, 28, robbery and Clifford Miller, 22, alleged train wrecker.

Sheriff Harley McNabb found the hole in the wall when five other prisoners who refused to leave the jail, informed him of the escape.

Authorities declared the men had outside assistance, some unknown persons who passed in a steel bar with a sharp end. The men after digging through the wall are thought to have dropped 12 feet to the ground where an automobile was waiting for them.

Persons passing the jail at midnight reported hearing singing and loud talk evidently framed to drown out the noise of the work.

Remaining prisoners refused to talk when questioned, other than to deplore the escape of Harbaugh who is a preacher, and Frank, who is the jail barber.

HERRON HANDED LIFE SENTENCE AT HARD LABOR

Slayer of Wife's Sister
Must Spend Two Days
Yearly In Solitary

New Philadelphia, May 14—William Herron, alleged slayer of his sister-in-law, Miss Viola May, 23, during a lonely automobile ride on the night of February 7, was today sentenced to life imprisonment at hard labor by Common Pleas Judge Eli E. Lindsay. Herron was found guilty of second degree murder by a jury Friday night.

Under his sentence, Herron must spend the seventh and eighth days of each year in solitary confinement "to reflect upon his evil deed." He will start serving his sentence at the Ohio State penitentiary at Columbus Wednesday.

Herron was alleged to have slain Miss May in an argument over his attentions to her while they were in the parked automobile on a lonely road February 7. He claimed that he pushed her away from him when she threatened to tell his wife that they had been intimate with each other and that she slumped into the seat of his car dead. He then threw her body into the Tuscarawas river when he became frantic with fear. During his trial, the state contended that Herron choked Miss May to death.

Herron was given tomorrow to arrange for the care of his wife, sister of the girl whom he is alleged to have slain, and his three children of a former marriage.

Preliminary plans have been accepted by the state department of health and acceptance of the final plans probably will be but a formality.

Edith Nourse Rogers (R), Massachusetts, today at the request of the disabled American veterans, introduced a bill providing that all of these names be assembled in one public volume and published with the place of death, military rank and organization. Copy of the book will be furnished free to each of the nearest relatives.

HEARING ON NEW RAIL LINE HELD BY I. C. C. TODAY

Judge Billingsley Takes Part In Parley At
Washington, D. C.

The finance division of the Interstate Commerce Commission commenced a hearing at Washington, D. C., this morning upon the application of the Pittsburgh, Lisbon & Western Railroad company, headquarters of which are at Lisbon, for permission to construct a 35-mile line of railroad extending from Youngstown southward to tap the Ohio river at Smith's Ferry, Pa., one-half mile east of the Ohio-Pennsylvania state line.

Judge N. B. Billingsley, resident vice president of the P. L. & W. road, left Lisbon Saturday night for Washington to attend the hearing.

It has been intimated that should the I. C. C. ultimately grant the application, work on the new road will commence this year, thereby giving employment to a large number of men.

Coal will be shipped on the Ohio river from Mill Rock, Pa., to Smith's Ferry, and then loaded on cars for the Youngstown district.

Completion of the road would also give the Youngstown steel district an outlet to southern markets over this road and river, thereby giving Youngstown industry the same advantages as is now enjoyed by the steel interests in the Pittsburgh district.

Campaign Of Threats Against Dealers Who Sell Gin Drops

Washington, May 14—Prohibition agents are conducting an apparently unauthorized campaign of coercion and threat against druggists and other dealers in non-intoxicating beverages in an effort to enforce the Volstead Act, it was learned today.

Druggists have been warned by agents that the sale of certain non-intoxicating substances such as preparations of juniper oil, commonly known as "gin drops," may result in the loss of their licenses to sell medical liquor.

Sales of this character were characterized by dry agents as "compounding a felony" although a majority of violations

SEEKING LOWDEN TO STOP HOOVER AT CONVENTION

Pennsylvania Stand Is Blow to "Allies" Who Oppose Secretary

LAST-DITCH FIGHT IS STARTED TODAY

Outlook Not Rosy, It Is Admitted, For Halting
Hoover's Chances

Washington, May 14—Hard hit by the apparent drift of Pennsylvania to the Hoover candidacy, the anti-Hoover allies were digging in today for a protracted and stubborn last-ditch fight to "stop" the secretary of commerce at Kansas city four weeks hence.

Their task has been made doubly difficult—perhaps impossible—by the apparent willingness of the Mellon machine in Pennsylvania to take Hoover if President Coolidge cannot be persuaded to stand again. Upon that nearly all the practical politicians of Washington were agreed today.

Hoover's pledged and committed delegate strength is due to cross the 400-mark this week, not counting any votes from New York or Pennsylvania, whose combined strength is 169 in the convention. From this it is apparent that if New York should follow Pennsylvania into the Hoover camp the fight against Hoover at Kansas City becomes more or less an idle gesture.

As of today, Hoover has approximately 367 committed delegates. New Jersey will add 31 in tomorrow's primary, and on next Friday Oregon will fall into line with 13, pushing the Hoover total across the 400-line. In both these states Hoover has no opposition and the state leaders are for him. Their 44 votes go to him by default. Even half of New York's coupled with Pennsylvania's 79 would put the cabinet candidate within a few votes of the necessary 545.

The senatorial leaders of "the allies" privately admit that the outlook for stopping Hoover is not a rosy one and if Hoover is to be stopped it is Lowden who must be.

Don't Mix Ward Leaders learn to Separate Crime And Politics

Chicago, May 14—The height of something or other was achieved here early today when a dozen members of the Fourth Ward Democratic club had their discussion of "Chicago's crime wave" interrupted by three bandits who held up the club.

"Now when Judge Lindsay is elected state's attorney," began one of the politicians, "he will—"

Just then the door opened and in walked three gun-toting bandits.

"Be nice, boys and nobody will get hurt," commanded the leader.

Benjamin Kanne, attorney for the sanitary district, was the heaviest loser, being robbed of a watch valued at $1,000. Others were robbed of amounts varying from five to fifty dollars.

As a parting shot, the bandit leader said:

"You boys should learn to separate politics from crime."

Lift Quarantine At Hamilton Jail For "Customers" Today

Cincinnati, May 14—The Hamilton county jail closed to all new prisoners because of a quarantine against varicella, was to be again opened today for "customers."

With the lifting of quarantine on the county jail today, many prisoners whose sentence elapsed several days ago will be given their freedom after spending a few days in jail overtime.

Discovery of the case of varicella among the prisoners of the county jail recently resulted in quarantine of the jail and general vaccination.

No prisoners were admitted during this time.

CORPORATE TAX CUT IS LARGEST GIVEN BUSINESS

Surtax Rates Remain To Be Set Before Bill
Can Be Passed

Washington, May 14—The new tax reduction bill today carried an $118,000,000 cut in corporation taxes, the greatest relief proposed for American business in any revenue measure drafted since the war.

The slashes included an $82,000,000 reduction in the regular corporation tax rate, which was dropped from 13 1/2 to 12 1/2 per cent. $12,000,000 reduction through increase of exemptions from $2,000 to $3,000 and $24,000,000 through adoption of a graduated scale of taxes for small corporations.

The $24,000,000 graduated scale slash, applying to corporations with incomes up to $15,000, was not approved by the administration and was inserted in the bill only because several stalwart Republican senators were absent when the vote was taken. The result was 40 to 38, two insurgents—McMaster and Norbeck, of South Dakota—voting with the Democrats.

The administration will make another effort to eliminate this item from the bill. Senator Smoot (R) of Utah, Republican finance leader, announced he expected the senate would reserve itself when the second vote is taken.

GLENN COLLETT WINS HER FIRST

Takes Opening Match In British Open Today
From Champion

Hunstanton, Eng., May 14—Miss Glenna Collett, the former American champion, today won her first match in the British women's open golf championship, defeating Miss Simone Thion de La Chaume, the present holder of the championship, three and one.

The elimination of the French star, regarded as one of the most formidable contenders, gives Miss Collett an excellent chance to take the championship for America.

The end of the first nine holes found the pair all square, but during the incoming round, the French girl was nervous and fidgety, especially after she had dropped the tenth and twelfth holes to the American. She recovered herself at the thirteenth, but Glenna took the next two, establishing a lead which she maintained to the end.

In the second round, Miss Elizabeth Curtis of Clinton, Ia., beat Mrs. Copland of Hunstanton, four and two; and Mrs. Stuart Hanley of Lochmoor beat Miss Irene Duxford, five and four. They drew eyes in the first round.

GOV. LOWDEN HAS SPENT $160,000, PROBERS LEARN

Sum In Sharp Contrast
To 1920 Campaign,
Costing $414,000

KNOWS NOTHING OF N. Y. BACKERS

Admits Organization But
Funds Unknown; Stays
In Small Races

Washington, May 14—Former Gov. Frank O. Lowden, of Illinois, has spent $60,000 in his campaign for the Republican presidential nomination, he told the senate presidential funds inquiry today.

Total receipts in his campaign have been $64,700, of which he personally has contributed $12,500 or $15,000.

This sum was in sharp contrast to his 1920 campaign, when his managers reported expenditures of $414,987.

Senator Steiwer (R) of Oregon, chairman, first introduced Lowden to members of the committee and there was a round of handshaking. This usual greeting was extended to no other candidate.

"We want to thank you, governor, for your courtesy in accepting our invitation to appear here," Steiwer added.

Lowden explained how he entered the Republican presidential race.

Avoids Large Campaigns
"I asked Buck before I left for the total amounts. He said the receipts totaled $64,700 and the expenditures were not quite $60,000. Buck says I contributed $15,000 of that sum, but my books at home show I contributed only $12,500. There is a discrepancy there that hasn't been settled yet. Of the balance, Mr. Clark and Custer have contributed the larger amounts. I contributed because I didn't want these old friends of mine to bear all the cost."

Lowden declared his policy in the primaries had been to avoid all larger campaigns. He said he refused to enter Oregon because his local supporters said it would require the establishment of an organization for the expenditure of money.

"I have felt all during the campaign that the Republican party had a hard fight on its hands this year and feeling that way, I decided not to do anything in this campaign that would, in event of my nomination, militate against my election."

Knows Nothing of Club
Lowden said he had made no effort to win California, "because we lacked on that as Hoover's state."

9 PERSONS DROWN AS BOAT CAPSIZES

Greenville, Me., May 14—Nine persons were drowned in Moosehead lake today when a boat from which they were fishing overturned. The tenth man in the fishing party swam ashore but was so exhausted that he was unable to give the names of the drowned or his own name.

The fishing party was understood to be made up of men, physicians and dentists from Brockton, Mass. The ice recently went out of the lake and the fishermen from Massachusetts came here for salmon.

They left the Tomhegan camp in the woods four miles from Greenville in the lower end of Moosehead. Between a half and one mile mile off shore the fishing boat sprang a leak. Water seeped up around the motors. Efforts to bring the leaking craft to shore met with failure, the boat going down with all hands.

SUNSET OF THE G. A. R.

When you see the bronze button of the Grand Army of the Republic, salute the wearer. He may never pass your way again.

Do not make a mental reservation to remember on Memorial Day, but ask yourself if there is not some service you can now perform. This privilege is not much longer to be accorded us.

For years and years we have said the men of the Civil War are leaving us. Now only 79,000 are left of an army which, when the Spanish-American war came, was still three-quarters of a million in number. Only 79,000—and in one month this year—March—1283 left us.

America needs these men. They are a reminder of things we need to remember and to pass on to those who are to take charge after us. The honor you pay to that little bronze button is no tribute paid to the glory of war. You seldom ever hear these veterans speak of any glamour in their service. Rather, they speak of the horror of going out against other gallant men who were their brothers.

But—and this is what they have done for us, and still are doing—they never speak of any doubt of their cause. Their issue was crystal clear. They had come down to the time when there was nothing left to give but chance and place to meet the hour.

No misguided pacifism ever dares to attack their cause or their response. No generation that is to come will deserve the country it inherits if it has not been taught that if anything worth while it may at some time demand all that a man has.

How joyfully they responded when common cause brought blue and gray together. But now both blue and gray pass into the haze on the horizon. Remember them. Not one of them today but is more than 80 years of age; and there are few persons of 80 to whom younger men and women cannot offer some service, at least show deference.

Remember them. For while truth and honor are still accounted good, while anything is worth striving for, the thing they stand for must be our standard, too.

FORGETTING THE WAR

For the first time since the World War the University of Heidelberg has conferred honorary degrees upon a member of the German government and an American ambassador.

The distinguished recipients, Foreign Minister Stresemann and Dr. Jacob Gould Schurman, utilized the auspicious occasion to re-emphasize the cordial collaboration between Germany and the United States for the abolition of war.

There was the customary fanfare about this conferring of the degrees—a fanfare long missing in the halls of old Heidelberg, but giving the indication of a return to normalcy that is to be desired, an indication of the amity of nations and the amity of individuals, regardless of the consequences of the late unpleasantness.

There still are some public schools in the United States which bar the teaching of German. They ruled out the German tongue during the World War, and they still apparently are not aware that the war has been concluded for several years. Other schools have seen the foolishness of their position and have again taken up the teaching of the German language.

The move by Heidelberg is an indication of the trend of public sentiment in that country. If universities as deeply German as Heidelberg are willing to bury the hatchet there certainly is no reason why we here in the United States should not meet them half way.

One difference between rookie ball players and rookie parachute jumpers is that the latter can't make even one error and stay in the league.—Nashville Banner.

What Others Say

COMES INTO HER OWN

Literary judgment in England has again bowed to the artistic genius in Shakespeare by finally including his "Anthony and Cleopatra" in the list of plays for the Cambridge literary tripos or examination. To quote a writer in the English "Fortnightly Review": "The morals of ancient Rome and Egypt shocked the national taste. It was easier to write Cleopatra down as wanton, a courtesan by temperament, a voluptuary, than to examine the evidence."

But now the same writer hails Cleopatra as being "not only the greatest of his—Shakespeare's—heroines, but the culmination of feminine characterization in all literature."

"Not until Shakespeare met Cleopatra in the pages of Plutarch and the company of Caesar and Anthony did he find an opportunity for expressing in one woman the qualities of all his women—the wit and perversity of a Beatrice, the freshness of a Rosalind, Cressida's duplicity, Imogen's pervasive charm, the tragic fire of Constance, and the swift and melting sympathy of Cordelia."

This sounds like a rather large order but the writer undertakes to prove by the progress of the play that the queen in Egypt was all these things, possessed of all these qualities. Her love was "free from other elements generally mixed with it," and toward the close of the play the "greatness of character and courage" that were also hers came to their highest point in her final decision to make death proud to take us.

It is natural that this age, which prides itself upon its intention to do justice toward womankind, should at least judge Cleopatra leniently.—Detroit Free Press.

PAROLE IDEA IS WRONG

The Illinois committee suggests a permanent change in the makeup and pay and importance of the Illinois parole and probation board. That may be worth a trial, to discover if any such board, however carefully chosen and however distinguished, can be kept absolutely free of political influence in the face of highly organized crime using politics as an ally either by purchase or intimidation. To abolish the parole system would require for a time at least, a large increase in prison capacity.

But even if the system can be kept free of politics the fundamental objection to it will remain. It is a concession to the theory that the criminal is a misled misenviored, misborn, diseased individual who must be cajoled, kindly treated, set on the right track, befriended, reformed and released, theoretically a safe member of society. It is a denial of the theory that the person in whom society should take the most interest in the potential victim of the criminal or of his imitator and that to deter that criminal or that imitator from crime is a matter of throwing fear into him by stern and efficient pursuit, trial and punishment.

The parole system attempts to substitute "reform" and kindness for the wholesome effect of fear and the wholesome knowledge that commission of a crime will almost certainly be penalized by a fixed term in state prison. Yet it has not been proved that fear is an outworn servant of society. In Europe it is pretty generally proved that fear is the best "reformer" of all. It prevents crime. The parole system makes criminals by the promise of lenience and then treats them kindly for accepting the invitation. —Grand Rapids Press.

CHANGE YOUR THINGS AFTER GETTING WET

By Royal S. Copeland, M. D., United States Senator from New York. Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

This is the time of year when it rains on occasion. You are bound to get wet once in a while. Some folks worry every time this happens for fear they will take cold.

The same folks are afraid of fresh air and especially currents of air. They wear skull caps and night-caps. They are scared if they feel a draft.

They are afraid of wet feet. They think they must begin to snuffle and sneeze after the least exposure. I sometimes think this speedy effect is psychic, but it exists and must be considered. Getting wet is a common experience. I do not approve of going out with the deliberate intention of getting wet, but clean water never hurt anybody. It makes no difference whether it is taken internally, or applied externally, either intentionally or inadvertently. No one need worry over a good wetting. There is nothing

THE astral influences for this day point to lively and interesting situations with some intriguing or difficult developments, and these may be turned into channels of complication and anxiety by an indulged propensity to rash deeds and ungoverned speech. There may be wholly unexpected events.

Those whose birthday it is are on the threshold of an intriguing year, in which complications or inexplicable situations may arise. These may not be solved by indulging an inclination to impulsive and hasty acts and ungoverned speech. A child born on this day may be disposed to be quick, violent and unruly in word and deed unless properly disciplined. Well educated and trained it may be prosperous and make a success in employment or in some interesting manner.

WOULD ATTRACT PLANET MARS BY CLOUD OF SMOKE

Dr. Barnes, Modernist of Birmingham, Eng., Is Certain of Life

London, May 14.—In declaring that it is "almost inevitable that there are many other planets bearing life," Dr. Barnes, the modernist bishop of Birmingham, has again brought into the sphere of controversy the question whether the earth can communicate with Mars or other planets.

Professor A. M. Low, the brilliant young English scientist and inventor, has entered the argument with the suggestion that an attempt be made to gain the eye of Mars by means of a great smoke cloud of twenty miles, or by an elaborate system of illumination.

"It may sound somewhat foolish to attempt such signals," Low declares, "but not to make any attempt at all seems equally foolish."

On Other Planets
While other scientists of note accept the possibility of life elsewhere than on the earth, they are skeptical of the possibilities of actual proof. In the opinion of Sir Oliver Lodge, the world may never solve the problem. In the event, he asks, who would understand messages from another planet?

"On the general question of other worlds," Low told International News service, "it seems to me that life exists wherever you look, and we know that life exists which we cannot see. If we had the eyes of a microscope we would be afraid to take our morning bath."

Life May Differ
"Why should we be so extraordinarily conceited as to assume that life does not exist on any other planets? It might be life in an impalpable and incomprehensible form to us. I do not believe life on such planets is on a higher plane than ours. If it were, surely the inhabitants would have discovered some method of knowing about our own life and communicating with us."

"Whatever the state of life on Mars, for instance, it should not prevent us making a reasonably logical attempt to gain the eye of Mars."

"Such might be a huge smoke cloud above the normal clouds, a cloud of say, twenty miles, that might be visible to Martian eyes as a patch. Or an extraordinary elaborate system of illumination might be tried."

"We would at least learn something from the methods employed, even if the result was negative."

COXEY HOPES TO SEE LAW PASSED BEFORE HE DIES

After 30 Years Bill Gets Careful Study From House Leaders

Washington, May 14.—Thirty four years ago Jacob S. Coxey, heading a mob of ragged unemployed which had walked 435 miles from Massillon, Ohio, stormed the national capitol seeking remedial legislation.

He was hurled bodily off the steps of the capitol and thrown into jail for a month.

Today the legislation for which Coxey's Army fought in vain bids fair to become law. Coxey recently staged a second invasion of the halls of congress, and was greeted with a smile and escorted about by guides.

The old fellow, 74 years old, worn by a career of political struggle stopped at one of Washington's most luxurious hostels. On his earlier visit he and his followers camped outside the capitol grounds in tents.

Watched by Police

When he reached the capitol in 1894 a cordon of police bristled across the entrance doors, some what fearful of this man from the backwoods who had crossed three states to tell his woes to the nation. He took himself and his little band of stragglers back to Ohio after his visit, but did not cease efforts to aid the unemployed.

He has accomplished in the twentieth what he and four hundred others failed to do in the nineteenth century. A house bill reported simultaneously by the Senate Banking and Currency committee during Coxey's visit to Washington provides that money, secured by community non-interest bearing 20 year bonds, shall be provided by the government for public improvements through community bank organized under state laws. The measure is intended to make possible a program of public improvement that will give work to thousands. It is essentially the same bill sought by Coxey three decades ago.

"The old place looks just the same, except for the police and general hostility," he said. "It's hard for me to realize I was thrown down those very steps and into jail 34 years ago. A lot can happen in that time. The people of America have awakened and are heeding the cry of those who cannot get work. The need for legislation for the unemployed is greater now than then. Congress knows it and is acting. I am very happy."

Grizzled Soldier
Coxey was the same grizzled old soldier that has fought so many political battles with the same end in view. He wore a dark suit, wing collar, and had on steel rimmed spectacles. Ohio knew him well in this garb in 1895. He polled 52,675 votes in a hot race for the governorship of that state then.

His march to Washington ended as a farce, and gave rise to the derisive term "Coxey's Army."

Out west people flocked to Coxey before his march, however. It was estimated that 20,000 persons attempted to join him. One group of fifteen hundred from the far west under a Colonel Fry, trekked hundreds of miles in an effort to come with him to the capitol, picking up recruits as they marched. Heavy and continued rain stopped them just west of the Mississippi. Finally when the march began from Massillon there were four hundred of Coxey's soldiers, in rags and tatters, a group of adult waits going to congress.

They got there, though. Over four hundred miles in rain and mud they walked and turned up in Washington, May 2, 1894 ready for their battle. They lost it then, but virtual success has crowned the long efforts of their leader.

Vast Cavern Is Discovered In Roaring Springs Canyon

Denver, May 14.—Does the Grand Canyon National Park of Arizona contain the world's largest cave as well as its mightiest canyon?

Members of the U. S. National Park Service here are asking themselves this question following discovery of a vast cavern in Roaring Springs Canyon located on the north rim.

Roaring Canyon to all intents and purposes is a series of the type of cliff spring common in Southern Utah and Northern Arizona—springs which simply gush from small openings in the rock faces of cliffs. But one of the openings of Roaring Spring was large enough to admit a man.

Bill Denzen of South Dakota entered and came back out with a tale of a cavern which caused an exploration party consisting of Denzen, Mack Jackson of Toquerville, Utah, and Paul Swain, of Salt Lake, to be organized.

Carrying gasoline lanterns and an adequate supply of fuel, they penetrated a labyrinth of tunnels for a depth of two miles from the opening, and finally were stopped by a large underground river running through a vast cavern. The river is so large and so deep that further exploration will have to be made by boat.

"As far as the lantern's rays would penetrate," reported Jackson, "the cave was filled by the river, and they both got bigger and bigger as far as we could see. The river is too deep to wade, and too swift to swim, so the only way anybody can go any further will be in a boat. The inside of the cave is very beautiful. Crystallized limestone formations, and thousands upon thousands of stalactites and stalagmites fill the various tunnels, or have from the walls and roof."

"The first tunnel runs back for about half a mile, and then branches to the left in a smaller tunnel about 200 feet long. This short tunnel runs into a junction point with three others. The big stream divides three ways into the others."

"There are some places where the walls and roof have caved off, and it is hard to get through. There is another place where we straddled a creek about two feet wide, and walked along two small ledges, one on each side."

Find a Big River
"Then we came into this big room that is filled by the big river, and couldn't go any further. We were in the cave about four hours."

"There are sandbars in all the creeks, made of different formation than the limestone of the cave. This shows that the water comes a long way. We thought there might be a big underground lake back under the mountains somewhere that supplied this big river in the cave."

"Whether the cave will ever be fully explored is problematical at the present time. A boat would have to be carried in sections, and put together at the point described."

Yerk, Lowden said. He knew nothing about its expenditures.

Senator McMaster (R) of South Dakota, brought out that Lowden's organization had spent but $124 to win his state's delegation. Lowden didn't know of it.

Senator Bratton questioned Lowden about the formation of a publishers' "Lowden for President" club. Ira H. Marshall, of Chicago, was its active head. The organization sought pledges from newspaper publishers to support Lowden electorally. The governor said he knew nothing of the club's activities.

Lowden told how he stayed out of all "favorite son" states.

"The only question in Indiana was whether Senator Watson would be a candidate," said Lowden. "When Senator Watson decided to become a candidate, my friends decided they wouldn't enter me in the primary."

"Is the same true of Ohio?"

"Yes."

"Then you stayed out of the states where there were favorite son candidates?"

"Yes sir."

No Dawes Agreement

The old Missouri "bugaboo" came up again but unlike 1920, the story did not hurt Lowden. He was asked whether any money was sent to Missouri.

"I do not know of any," said Lowden. "If it was, it was only a very small sum."

Lowden denied stories that he had an agreement to support Vice President Dawes at the Kansas City convention.

"Do you have any understanding, tacit or otherwise, remote or approximate with Vice President Dawes relative to your delegates in case you are unable to win the nomination?"

"No sir it has never been discussed by us," Lowden replied. "Of course, the vice president and I are old friends."

"I got into this picture not because I was keen for it," Lowden added. "I got into this picture because I came to be looked upon as representing a great cause. I believe restoring agriculture to an equality with industry is the greatest question before the American people. I believe the next five or ten years will tell whether the old fashioned independent Republican yeoman farmers, who are the backbone of our civilization, shall continue to exist in this country or not. If agriculture is doomed, I can't see a bright future for the republic."

SELF DEFENSE SLAYER'S PLEA

Superintendent Fires At Man In Church As Members Watch

Pittsburgh, May 14—Possibility that Fred J. Tyrrell, 53, father of six children and for eleven years a Sunday school superintendent, will plead self defense as the motive for killing Philip F. Clark, shot the latter to death in church yesterday because police say, he feared Clark intended to demand his resignation from his church office.

Clark previously had accused Tyrrell of alienating his wife's affections and breaking up his home.

Tyrrell was preparing the day's lesson in the pulpit when Clark entered and engaged a church committeeman in conversation, witnesses said. The superintendent leaped from the pulpit, drew a revolver and fired three shots at Clark, who died almost instantly.

Tyrrell went immediately to his home, where he was arrested. Nearly 50 persons, assembled for the church services, witnessed the shooting.

How to Get the Things You Want

A man gives up a large part of his income, and a great deal of his liberty in order to get married, because he believes that the happiness and comfort of a home and family will more than recompense him. Men and women go without little luxuries and pleasures, and put a part of his or her money into savings and good investments because they know that a dollar spent now is a dollar forever, while a dollar safely invested will return bringing a family of other dollars. Let the Ulmer organization show you how you can build up an estate through safe investments.

HIGHER AT OPENING

New York, May 14.—Higher prices were quoted for stocks in all departments of the market at the opening today. Aeronautic stocks were strong, with Curtiss Aero up 4 1/2 at 146 1/2, and Wright Aero up 2 1/2 at 192 1/2. Pivotal issues displayed about the largest gains. General Motors at 207 was up 3 1/2; Radio 206 1/2, up 1; Westinghouse 108 1/2, up 1 1/2; General Electric 171 1/2, up 1 1/2; and U. S. Steel 149 1/2, up 1 1/2. Motors were also strong, with Chrysler up 1 1/2 at 79; Packard 71, up 1/2; and U. S. Rubber 43 1/2, up 1/2. Kennicott was up 1/2 at 89 1/2, and Anaconda was up 1/2 at 71 1/2, respectively. Collins & Aikman reached 7 to 7 1/2. Great Northern preferred advanced 1 to 107 1/2; St. Louis-San Francisco rose 1/2 to 120 1/2; and Baltimore & Ohio gained 1/4 to 117 1/2.

Curtiss Aeroplane led a sharp advance in the specialty stocks at the beginning of trading in the stock market today. Buying orders for the motors and industrial accumulated as usual over the double holiday.

Curtiss jumped an additional 12 points to 154 and Wright Motors gained 7 points to 197 in the first half-hour as the result of persistent buying that these companies would combine in a gigantic project for commercial aviation covering a wide area over North and South America, according to these reports. Henry Ford will back the project financially and Colonel Lindbergh will head the company. Today's new gains in these stocks are in addition to last week's 35-point advances.

Radio reached a new top above 210, up 4 1/2 points from last Friday's close, in extremely heavy trading in this period, and General Motors spurred 4 points to around 208. The lower priced motors and the popular oils pushed forward a point or two, under the leadership respectively of Chrysler and Standard Oil of New York. Consolidated Gas gained 4 points on reports of the proximity of its amalgamation with Brooklyn Edison and Brooklyn Union Gas. Montgomery Ward continued its sensational upward movement, but Collins and Aikman fell back 7 points to 76 as the result of the omission of its quarterly dividend.

The market has apparently lost none of spectacular buoyancy, and stocks reacted only moderately to a heavy load of profit-taking in the second hour. Motor stocks and specialties still led the market. Call money was unchanged at 5 1/2 per cent and cotton lost $1.50 a bale as the result of rains in Texas and the falling off of Liverpool buying.

600 DELEGATES AT LABOR MEET

Railway Clerks, Freight And Station Men Are In Convention

Columbus, O., May 14.—With about 600 delegates representing nearly every branch in the United States, in attendance at the fifth triennial and the 13th regular convention of the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks, Freight Handlers, Express and Station Employees formally swung under way here today.

Following the welcoming address by Mayor J. J. Thomas, Grand President E. H. Fitzgerald took the speakers platform and outlined an intensive campaign program on the part of the organization during the coming political elections.

Fitzgerald read a letter from U. S. Sen. Henrik Shipstead, (Farm-Lab.) of Minnesota, saying that the senator could not be present at the convention as was announced Saturday. Quoting Shipstead's letter, Fitzgerald said that it was through the efforts of the labor organization of which he is president that seated some members of the U. S. senate in the highest legislative body of the nation. Among these political leaders he mentioned were Senators Borah, of Idaho, Brockhart, of Iowa, LaFollette, of Wisconsin, and Blaine, also of Wisconsin. All of the above mentioned are Republicans.

F. M. Kirkendall, president of the Ohio group, then addressed the delegates. His speech was flavored with witty remarks and ended in saying, "The time has come for us to cease our defensive work, now is the time to start an ardent offensive campaign."

The appointment of a press committee, for the censoring of the activities of the delegation before they are published then took place. It was after the appointment of this committee that all newspapermen were excluded from the session chamber at Memorial Hall where the convention is being held.

Surviving are his widow, Deborah E. Mercer, five children, Mrs. Frank Ward, and Albert Mercer who live near home; Jesse Mercer, Alliance; Vernon Mercer, Damascus, and Merle at home; one sister, Mrs. J. W. Galbreath, near North Georgetown, the only survivor of a family of eight children; 23 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

He was the father of seven children, two of them having preceded him in death, Charles Mercer and Mrs. Ida Kuhl.

The funeral will be at 10:30 a. m. Wednesday at the home in charge of Rev. Mr. Brown, of Winona; burial in Woodside cemetery.

Joseph Detell, 71, Newgard street, died at 1:45 a. m. Saturday. He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Mary Volpe and one son, Louis Detell, both of Salem; and a nephew, Perry Colorado of Denver, Colo.

Funeral service will be held at 9 a. m. Tuesday at St. Paul's Catholic church; interment in Grandview burial park.

In Memoriam—Of Elmer Kyser, who died one year ago today.

One by one as the rose leaves fall, our ranks are being depleted. The Grim Reaper saw fit to take from our midst our devoted husband, father and grandfather. Our loss is his gain and as time records another milestone in the history of our beloved family, we can only bow our heads and say "Thy will be done."

Card of Thanks—We wish in this way to thank our friends and neighbors for their kindness and sympathy shown us during our recent bereavement, the Moose lodge of Woodlawn, Pa., Rev. Stratton of New Castle and Rev. Clarke for their consoling words; also O. G. Stark for his co-operation.

Salem High Wins County Track Meet Fourth Consecutive Year

KIRKHAM AND ALLEN SET UP NEW RECORDS

Red and Black Score 64 Points To Sweep Events Saturday At Reilly Field; Wellsville and Liverpool Trail

Celebrating the silver jubilee track and field meet of Columbiana county in precisely the way it should be done in the unofficial dedication of the new Reilly field stadium, Salem High walked through everything the county had for a one-sided win of the fourth consecutive year on Saturday.

The Salem High team, seemingly so weak in other meets this year, flashed a power and strength in every event on the board except two, winning nine first places, and rolled up 64 points. This was more than its two nearest competitors, Wellsville and East Liverpool, who finished second and third were able to collect together.

The score of the meet was: Salem 64; Wellsville 25; East Liverpool 21; East Palestine 17; Leetonia 10½; Lisbon 9; and Columbiana 7½.

Two records were broken in the meet, Lowell "Little Rib" Allen, national indoor pole vault champion, and holder of the unofficial world's vault record, breaking his own record established in 1926, by vaulting 12 feet 8 inches. The new record, incidentally, broke Rib's own record in district, state, county, and the high school record.

Kirkham Breaks Mark
Kirkham, East Liverpool, broke the javelin record with a throw of 163 feet 5 inches, four inches better than the mark of 1921 made by "Ski" McFort, Lisbon.

Besides breaking the pole vault record, Allen took individual honors of the meet, winning four firsts, scoring 20 points. His victories came in the high jump, broad jump, 100 yard dash, and vault.

His first in the 100 came as a climax to the most spectacular race of the day, and, perhaps, the most outstanding, in that Elmer English, Liverpool star runner, doped as the favorite to win the race easily, finished third. Both Allen and Arnold Seeds, Salem, who entered the prelims in the morning at the last minutes defeated him with yards to spare.

Salem started looking like a championship aggregation in the morning preliminaries, when members of the squad placed two men in seven of the events for the finals, and one man in two events. In the afternoon finals, after Allen and Seeds romped away ahead of English, there was nothing to it. Event after event was chalked up as a Salem victory.

Roessler, Salem's second 12-foot vaulter, also broke the county record in the vault, making 12 feet, 2 inches, but when out at 12:5. He and Allen held the attention of the 2,000 fans at the meet for the entire hour that it took to run off the pole vault, as both were expected to establish new records.

Misses At 13 Feet
At 11 feet 6 inches, the Salem stars were the only vaulters left, and the bar was raised to 12 feet 5. This was a new record for Keith. He was able to get high enough, but not over. Three times he just shaved the bar, and he was eliminated. Allen, who has cleared 13 feet on two or three occasions, missed it twice, and it seemed that the "twins" were in for their split first honors of the season.

Allen rested for five minutes, and with a mighty leap, cleared it. He requested the bar to be raised four inches to 12 feet 8 inches, the highest mark ever tried at a high school meet in the state, and a new record was made when he cleared it on his third trial.

He tried 13 feet three times but missed it. The third record of the meet would have been broken had Ted Van Campen, running his prettiest race under Salem High colors, the inside lane in the 880 yard run race, Van Campen drew the outside lane, the narrowest of the track, and the hardest to run in, but ran the race in 2 minutes, 7.8 seconds, two and eight-tenths seconds from the record.

Terry Springs Surprise
Terry, Salem colored lad, furnished the biggest surprise of the meet by winning first place in the shot put with a 40 feet 2½ inches heave.

The other big upset of the meet was in the javelin, where Sidinger and Pasco were doped to take first and second. Kirkham, Liverpool junior, on his last throw, speared out the second record of the meet, throwing it 20 feet further than his best throw up to that time.

Salem's other firsts came in the 220 yard low hurdles and relay race. Herm Litty lost a first in the high hurdles when he fell, after leading all the way, on the last hurdle.

Timers of the race state that Litty, at the last hurdle, had a mark of 16.8 seconds, and would have taken them in around 17 flat but for the accident. The event was won by Terry of Wellsville in 19.3 seconds.

Seeds, Salem took the low hurdles in 27.8 seconds. Litty, falling again on the last hurdle, was a sure second, leading Seeds up to that time. Due to the fall he failed to place.

A Leetonia freshman, Wagonhouser, furnished the sensation in the runs, winning the mile by 40 yards in 4 minutes 51 seconds. The youngster set the pace from the start, and was too fast for the entire field.

Salem's relay team of Floyd, Whinnery, Horstmann, and Van Campen won the race in fairly fast time of 3 minutes 49 seconds, averaging 57.5 seconds to a 440 per man.

The entire meet had all the sensations that a meet could have. Despite Salem's overwhelming victory, every race and every field event was close, and held the crowd until the last minute. The largest crowd in the history of the meet attended, and it is certain that the event will be held here again in 1929.

TRADE O'FARRELL FOR HARPER

NATIONAL RACE TIGHT AS DRUM

Cubs Tear Up Things By Winning Streak; Yanks Are Unstoppable

BY DAVIS J. WALSH

New York, May 14.—Comedy may be the motif of the American league situation with the Yankees increasing their advantage of 135 percentage points at the end of last week to 142 at the beginning of this one, but to the club immediately involved, the National league race is about as comical as a hair lip.

The Giants were comfortably behind the Reds, who moved into first place yesterday by winning from the hopeless Phils while the Giants were tossing off their second straight to the Cubs.

The entire National league became tighter than a suitor's hand clasp during the week as the result of a general balancing of values. The Cubs, for example, stopped losing to everyone and proceeded to win from all comers, beating the Giants and Dodgers out of six straight, gaining no less than 103 points in the percentage table and advancing from fifth to third place in the standing of the clubs.

The Cards, meantime, also reeled off six in a row but were stopped yesterday by the Braves.

Cincy Gains 30 Points
Cincinnati gained 30 points on the week. The Cubs, Cards and Reds were the only entries to do themselves any good for the seven days in question. Brooklyn losing 98 points in the table and dropping from third to sixth place.

By comparison, the American league has no more action than a tableau. The Athletics and Indians did manage to keep moving in the general direction of some place by winning four out of six and gaining 7 points each on the week. But the Yanks gained 14.

The White Sox, Cleveland and Detroit have come to the Yankee stadium and have left the record of one game won in nine played. The Yanks' pitching may be a bit uncertain and the Indian pitchers did cramp their style to some extent but they always had the punch with men on.

So far, the Indians have looked the part of the best western club, playing the Yanks right down to the last post, and then knocking off the Athletics for two straight after Mr. Mack's young and old men had won six in a row. And as a fitting tribute to Cleveland's pitching, it might be mentioned that the club averaged just a little more than three runs a game during the week.

White Sox Now Lost
The Athletics were on a roaring rampage until they faced Uhle and company but the last two have seen them score just once in 18 innings.

The tip off on the American league situation is that only one change in the standing was effected during the week and that one saw the Red Sox emerge from last place at the expense of the White Sox. Detroit and Washington did exchange fifth and sixth places for a day but the end of the week found the Senators heading the second division as before. They have slight cause to congratulate themselves, in view of the fact that the Browns lost 59 percentage points and four out of five ball games and still remained fourth.

The Cubs, like the Indians, got by the week on their pitching. Root and Nehf having suddenly snapped into it. However, just how long that staff will be able to carry a club in a tight race with a 4-run-per-game average remains to be witnessed. The Cards mixed fair pitching with plenty of runs to make their advance, so did the Reds, although the latter needed those 11 runs of yesterday to bring their run-average up to adequate proportions.

London—Well, well, here's John Bull out in front. The Flying Scotsman has the longest non-stop run of any train in the world, 392 miles, London to Edinburgh.

UHLE SHUTS OUT ATHLETICS 2 TO 0

George Is Getting Better With Age; Cubs Take Eighth Straight

New York, May 14.—George Uhle, pitching ace of the Cleveland Indians, and Herb Pennock, veteran scutpaw of the New York Yankees, may win 50 games between them this year. With little more than a month of the season gone, each has turned in six triumphs.

Uhle is getting better every time he starts. Yesterday he held the Athletics to one hit, a double by Cochran in the second inning, and blanked the Mackmen 2 to 0. Eddie Rummel yielded five hits.

The Athletics, who are now practically tied with Cleveland for second place, are four games behind the Yankees. Pennock stopped Detroit yesterday by a 7 to 2 count. Keenig got four hits and Babe Ruth three.

The Cubs' eighth straight victory, a 6 to 5 triumph over New York, sent the Giants into second place. Sheriff Blake, who hasn't lost a game this season and is leading the league's pitchers, blanked the Giants after they had slammed Guy Bush around for five runs in the third frame. Jackson's first two errors tipped the beans and his third spilled them completely.

The Reds eased into first place on the chin-strap, swamping the puncheon Phillies 11 to 4. Callaghan, Cincinnati rookie, got four hits.

Although touched for five runs in the fifth inning, Joe Genewich of the Boston Braves beat St. Louis, 6 to 5, and snapped the winning streak of the Cardinals.

The Brooklyn Robins ended their losing streak of five games by trouncing the Pirates, 8 to 5. Gink Hendrick, converted outfielder whose error gave the Pirates Saturday's game in Pittsburgh, lost his third base job to Riconda, who had not been quite at home playing second.

The Washington Senators made 16 hits in taking a 10 to 3 slugging. The Browns and Red Sox did not play.

Smile, Walter! Smile!

No wonder this boy has a broad grin on his face. It is a good photo of any man who has won the British Open Golf Championship as Walter Hagen has. He had to play some pretty steady golf to beat out the talent entered in the big event. His score of 292 brought home the bacon.

AUDREY BOOMER DEFEATS HAGAN AT ST. CLOUD

Paris, May 14.—Walter Hagen, one of the particularly bright stars in America's golfing constellation, has had his ups and downs since coming to Europe last month, two downs and one up to be exact. But he apparently likes the old world, for he plans touring Berlin, Vienna, the Riviera and Ireland and indulging in exhibition matches between trains before returning to the United States for the national open championship in June.

After recouping his lost prestige by winning the British open, "Sir Walter" came to the St. Cloud country club yesterday and was beaten by Audrey Boomer, the French open champion, 3 to 2.

"OLD IRONSIDES"

Every American who has read of the grand old warrior vessel of the sea, should not miss seeing James Cruze's new Paramount picture, "Old Ironsides," which opens at the Grand today.

All the heroes and famous naval commanders who lived during the stirring days of 1804, live and take part in the famous battle of Tripoli Bay when the United States made the declaration. "Millions for defense but not one cent for tribute."

In the production one sees Lieutenant Stephen Decatur, Commodore Edward Preble, Commodore Richard Somers and a score of other men whose names are forever engraved in the hall of fame.

Young love, tender and tense, where the air is thick with danger. Under the soft Mediterranean moon, romance grows against a background of rollicking tars and hardy sea-fighters. The story is by Laurence Stallings. Suggested and adapted by Harry Carr and Walter Woods.

James Cruze has produced many excellent pictures in the past, but none of them can surpass with the thrilling, pulse-hurrying romance of "Old Ironsides."

"THE PATSY"
Marion Davies' new starring vehicle, "The Patsy," comes to the State tonight.

The story is replete with natural comedy, directed by King Vidor with the same originality as he used in handling the gumchewing and tobacco-spitting episodes of his great epic, "The Big Parade." "The Patsy" opens with a comic introduction of Patricia Harrington, "The Patsy" of the Harrington family.

Pat, despite her troubles, and they are many, persists in seeing humor in everything. No matter whether she is treading on the feet of the man she loves or the feet of the man who is knocking him over with an oar while helping him into a rowboat, or quoting half-baked epigrams stolen from a book on "personality," she laughs.

Having to look funny while a three-foot stalk of celery dropped into her dress, was one of the comic situations forced on Marie Dressler who plays Ma Harrington. Another one was to have to stand still for thirty minutes while her husband (for screen purposes only) powdered her back. Jane Winton had to look funny while Marion Davies shaved her legs for her (and accidentally cut her a couple of times).

Washington, May 14. — The American doughboy steps out today in his new white gloves!

Quartermaster regulations effective today prescribe the new whites for enlisted men only for ceremonial occasions. The present olive drab woollens will continue good form for cold weather, and buff leather remains proper for mounted troops.

James A. Garfield, in 1890, was the first "dark horse" candidate to receive the Republican presidential nomination.

THE GUMPS—JUST A GOOD HUSBAND

THE HOME KITCHEN

By Jeannette Young Norton

Do You Know the Weight of an Egg?

Modern housewives are now buying their eggs according to weight and size. We are accustomed to the dated egg as a guarantee of its freshness but must get acquainted with the graded eggs. The large sizes weigh 23 to 25 ounces a dozen, medium sizes run 21 to 23 ounces a dozen, and pullet eggs 18 to 21 ounces a dozen.

The whites eggs are always a trifle more expensive than the brown ones but there is absolutely no difference in the quality, only in the color of the shells. When preserved in any of the known ways the law says they shall be marked as "shell treated" so the buying public are fairly well protected.

In early spring fresh eggs begin to appear at fair prices, and in plenty, so this is the time to gratify our desires in cake making, and to use the eggs as a substitute for the meat dish at home dinners. Try some of the following suggestions:

Oysters and Eggs
Break six eggs on a buttered baking dish. Stir a heaping tablespoonful each of butter and flour over the fire until melted and cooked, stir in a half cupful each of oyster liquor and cream. Stir as the sauce thickens and add pepper and salt and a tablespoonful of cooking sherry. Add a cupful of oysters cut in pieces, then cook for two minutes; add a tablespoonful of grated cheese and pour over the eggs, sprinkle with a few dry crumbs and cook in the oven until the eggs are set. Serve in the same dish. Garnish with toast suppers and parsley.

Grecian Eggs
Butter a shallow earthen cooking plate and break over it six eggs, after sprinkling the dish with chopped mint leaves. Dust with pepper and salt, moisten with four tablespoonfuls of cream, sprinkle with a few fine crumbs and bake for five minutes.

Mushroom Scramble
Wipe, peel and cut up a pound of fresh mushrooms. Wipe a frying pan with a cut bud of garlic then put in a tablespoonful of butter, when hot put in the mushrooms and cook carefully, stirring well until done but not brown. Beat six eggs together and add a quarter cupful of cream, a little pepper and salt and the juice of an onion. When the mushrooms are done and hot turn in the eggs, stir as they heat then stir as they scramble so they do not burn. Turn onto a hot dish and garnish with toast suppers and parsley.

Custard Souffle
Bring a cupful of milk to boiling point. Blend together two tablespoonfuls each of butter and flour and add to the milk stirring as it thickens, beat the yolks of four eggs together, then add two tablespoonfuls of sugar, add these to the milk then set aside to cool. When cool beat the egg whites stiff and mix with the rest, and add a teaspoonful of vanilla. Pour into a buttered baking dish and bake in a brisk oven 20 minutes. Serve at once hot with whipped cream. Do not shake the dish about or the souffle will fall.

Clove Cake
Beat together a cupful of sugar and the yolk of one large egg. Add a cupful of flour and a half teaspoonful of baking soda has been dissolved. Add a teaspoonful of ground cloves, then sift in a half a cupful of flour and a half salt-spoonful of salt and beat well. Turn into a buttered pan and bake for 45 minutes in a medium oven.

ABANDON LARGE WHEAT ACREAGE REPORT REVEALS

Largest Percentage Ever, Government's Expert States

Columbus, May 14. — The May 1 government crop report issued today further substantiates the reports that the largest percentage of abandonment of winter wheat ever recorded in Ohio will take place this spring. The reports also forecast the smallest production of winter wheat, with one exception, in over 60 years.

This report, as issued by G. S. Ray of the federal crop reporting service states that the growth of pastures and hay crops has also been very backward this spring.

Fruit prospects, it was said, are fairly good, very little frost damage having occurred.

Ohio farmers will market but 8,000,000 bushels of winter wheat, the report said. This forms a sharp contrast with the 28,000,000 bushels marketed last year.

Approximately 2,471,000 acres of winter wheat was planted last fall. Of this huge acreage, but about 840,000 acres remain for harvest, the report declared.

Where winter wheat remains for harvest, the condition of the crop varies considerably, the report continued. There are some instances where the only reason for letting wheat fields stand is to save the clover which has been seeded in these fields.

The 38,000 acres of rye remaining for harvest in Ohio this season gave promise on May 1, of producing 410,000 bushels against 560,000 bushels last year.

Growth of pastures this spring has been very slow, it was stated, due to cool weather. Pastures had an average condition of 61 on May 1, as compared with 85 one year ago.

Stocks of hay on Ohio farms May 1 amounted to about 928,000 tons as compared with stocks of 517,000 tons one year ago. Though these figures indicate an increase Ray explained that no increase of hay crops was apparent. He said that the numbers indicate the supply now on hand. Whether the increased supply is due to poor marketing prices or lack of production outlets, Ray refused to say.

Tame hay (alfalfa, clover and timothy) meadows suffered considerable damage due to freezing weather during the past winter. Many fields of clover and alfalfa "heaved" badly. Unfavorable growing weather during most of the spring gave tame hay an average of 65 on May 1, as compared with 85 one year ago.

Edwards Davis, Preacher Who Danced In Church And Then Made Movies, Back In Pulpit

Los Angeles, May 14.—This story might be termed the saga of a dancing preacher.

His character came to Oakland three decades ago, and danced in the pulpit, to the consternation of the devout, and the delight of the curious.

While crowds were climbing stepladders to peek into the auditorium where he preached the gospels in a well cut tuxedo, he suddenly went into vaudeville, where he was headlined for 12 years.

The stage and motion pictures followed. He headed the greatest organizations of actors and cinema stars. Now religion has called him again, and he is going back, as a modernist, to the pulpit he deserted 28 years ago.

His name is Edwards Davis, and his first sermon was in the Windsor Square theater. No sensationalism this time, nor praying.

Classic Music
Even old time church hymns will be replaced by classic music. "The meeting, he says, will be invigorating, not depressing."

He is going to reconcile the belief in God with science, and modern philosophy. He thinks that since ministers are not highly paid, the best talent that should go into the ministry goes elsewhere. And the most good in religious work of the future will be done by men who have lived, experienced life, read, and then when old, volunteer to give others the benefits of their experiences and their conclusions.

"When I left the pulpit," he says, "I said that I would rather be true to a mask than false to a cross. I was too progressive for the orthodox."

In Many Roles
Out in his home in Hollywood today he went over some of the story, that gave him the experience he will use to advantage as he preaches again.

On the largest vaudeville circuit in existence he was headlined in various character roles, including one that was based on Oscar Wilde's "Picture of Dorian Gray." On the legitimate stage, he was a star on Broadway, New York, his last appearance being in David Belasco's "Daddies." In motion pictures he has played in any number of prominent character roles.

For three years he was president of the Green Room Club of New York City; for three years he was president of the 23 Club in Hollywood; for a time he was president of the national vaudeville artists of America in New York City.

He has written five dramas, a half dozen sketches, several long poems, and delivered memorial eulogies on Theodore Roosevelt, Lillian Russell, Thomas Ince, J. D. Grauman and Samuel Warner.

Up in Oakland, in the old days, they called him the poet preacher. He was young then, and his hair fell down over his coat collar. Once it was said that he shocked the very religious by praying to God for an audience. Another time he was credited with wearing the robes of Mephistopheles before his congregation. He says that this was a slight exaggeration, he was only speaking on Goethe's "Faust."

No More Sensationalism
He states that he was the only minister who would officiate for Theodore Durant, criminal in San Francisco at that time whose murders revolted the land. Other ministers thought that Durant was "too vile" during his time when his atrocities were on a par with those of Hickman in Los Angeles last year.

Now he says he has outgrown pulpit sensationalism. "There are men and women who are expert at that now," he says. He does not condemn them for their practices—believes, rather, that they are useful. "I am 54," he says. "My point of view is certainly much more mature than it was then. I feel the call again, and it does not make any difference that I can make $600 a week working in pictures."

COLUMBIANA

Much interest was shown by the school pupils in the Music Memory concert conducted by the music supervisor, Mrs. Julia Miller, as a contribution to National Music week. Prizes were awarded to a girl and boy in each room, the prizes being donated by merchants and business men. In cases where the contest resulted in ties, prizes were awarded to all the winners. A feature of the result is that in several instances two members of the same family were prize winners. The winners by rooms follow and in rooms where several girls' names are given, the result was a tie; there were no ties among the boys.

No contests were held in the first or second grades.

Third grade: Carolyn Hoffman, Ruth Wilson, Betty Hoover, Lovina Tyson, Robert Todd. Fourth grade: Helen Eckert, Robert Detweiler. Fourth and fifth grade: Jean Funkhouser, Jean Weaver, Elizabeth Shaffer, Jane Tullis, Clyde Getz. Fifth grade: Margaret Chadock, Virginia Vollnogle, Jean Antonetti, Melda DeStefano, Jack Miller. Sixth grade: Betty Wining, Elio Antonetti. Sixth and seventh grade: Helen McCord, Henry Todd. Seventh grade: Ruth Vollnogle, Elmer Detweiler. Eighth grade: Ruth McCord, Chester Royer.

The annual ladies' and guest night of the Columbiana Rotary club was held Friday evening in the dining room of the Methodist church an excellent chicken dinner being served by the Ladies' guild. Delightful music was furnished during the banquet by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Muller of Warren, with harp and violin duets and solos and Mrs. Muller also sang several delightful solos. President Henry Staley presided over the program and later turned the gavel over to President-elect P. H. Geiger, who responded with a brief talk. President Staley thanked the committees who had served under him during the past year for their co-operation. About 60 members and guests were present at the meeting, out of town visitors being L. Frank Smith of Salem, and Robert Robinson of New Waterford.

The address of the evening was made by Rotarian Charles F. Owsley, Youngstown architect, who gave an unusually interesting talk, his subject being "A Wanderer in Egypt." He told of a recent trip to that country, especially of his visit to King Tut's tomb, which he described graphically.

The Columbiana High school quartet, composed of Gerald Miller, Lawrence Warmcastle, Hubert Clapp and Willis Orr, with Mrs. E. F.
